

JON – KATE = JON + OCTOMOM

In the history of the world, there have only been a few such historic combinations. Mohamed and the Mountain started a religion. Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris started a Yankee dynasty. Lennon and McCartney started a music revolution. Now Jon and Octomom start a whole new reality in the world of Reality TV. Can't get enough of the two biggest media sensations of our generation, now they're dating in the mind-blowing Reality Show: “Jon – Kate = Jon + Octomom.”

Talk about historic combinations, the show itself qualifies as it was conceived and produced by Elevator Productions, which merges the evil genius minds of the Cheaters show creator with the former Producer of The Jerry Springer Show. This is a reality show where you just don't talk about it at the water cooler, you end up throwing that water cooler at a co-worker as you argue about whether TV has now finally reached a new high or a new low.

“Jon – Kate = Jon + Octomom” takes you behind the scenes of the latest sign of the coming apocalypse, Jon dating the Octomom after he finds out she has a crush on him. More likely, Octomom has a crush on fame, but that will do in this twisted world of Reality TV. We see Jon as he actually contemplates what hooking up with Octomom could really be like. He's totally creeped out by the fact that if they eventually got married they would have 22 kids. Well, at least that's enough for their own football team. They could really make all our heads spin by adopting Balloon Boy, he's gonna need new parents because it looks like his old ones are going to soon be serving 3 to 5 in the pen.

When we focus on the Octomom, if you can believe it, things start to really get weird. It turns out she has such an obsession with Jon that she's already talking openly about the two of them getting married. It's so bad that when they finally meet, Octomom's brood start calling Jon daddy. If this doesn't make Jon lose it then Octomom modeling her Bikini body for him will. This show will be like watching a train wreck, you know you shouldn't look but you can't turn your head away.

“Jon – Kate = Jon + Octomom” is being pitched as a 2 hour network special that then goes to series. With Elevator Productions running the show, “Jon – Kate = Jon + Octomom” will rival American Idol in the ratings, but there will be no rival in the shocking nature of this pairing. Two people who are famous because of their ability to have a bunch of kids will captivate the American Public every week with their unbelievable antics. I don't know if this is the change that President Obama always talks about, but it does prove one thing, if Jon and Octomom can hook up, maybe there is hope for the Israelis and Palestinians.
