Matt,

I'm glad there's real interest in the project. I just got with Bobby and here are some more details on the shooting schedule for the show. The preliminary talks we've had with the networks have told us we need to shoot the show quickly once we have a deal. We envision shooting Jon back east wherever he's comfortable showing him getting ready to go to LA for his date with Octomom. We'd love to have Halley in the show upset and unsure about this whole blind date thing. At the same time we'll be shooting Octomom in LA getting ready for the date. Once Jon makes it to LA we'll shoot here before they finally meet at her house and go out to a local restaurant and movie or something. We envision the whole shooting taking 1-2 weeks and that's it. Pretty easy work for a million dollars.
