first talent show up to the through signing with Polygram Records in 1983. It was all family so what was most important to me in was not how to get to a record company or a promoter or label but he would have to be my brother. I had to trust him because I had to trust him not with a dollar or my music but literally with my life; because I can always manage

A record company can always put out records but as an artist it's only one shot.
If you trust someone and they direct you wrong or steal from you as we say
